Field Service Express

When it comes to the efficiency of your supply chain, a quick turn around on the refurbishment of defective parts is key to reducing your inventory costs.

That's where TNT can help. We can manage your entire returns process for you so that parts needed for repair, replacement, recall and re-use can be serviced quickly and efficiently.

Not only does it mean that your parts are made available sooner, but it also ensures that your inventory and transport costs are kept to a minimum.

Giving your supply chain more control and more certainty, not to mention customer satisfaction.

Experts in the field

Efficiency Savings

Returns Express works by our couriers taking management of your parts at the point of delivery of the new. One vehicle, one courier, two journeys both providing a service. What could be more efficient?

Enhanced Supply Cycle

With your part being taken from the field directly to be repaired before going back into the supply chain, the amount of downtime on each of your parts is minimised. Not only does this mean each of your parts becomes more cost-effective, but that you also reduce your inventory costs through the need for less stock at any one time.

Security

Keeping the management of your parts within the TNT network means your valuable stock is fully secure and traceable, while also reducing costs through the use of a single service provider.

Extensive Network

TNT's unrivalled network across the UK means that we will return your used parts to your designated repair facility both quickly and efficiently, minimising your part's downtime.

How you benefit
